

Musicians with hot new releases headline Out & About Today this month

By: O&AN Staff Reports

Two popular entertainers stop by the Out & About Today show this month to discuss their latest releases.

Popular Nashville singer/songwriter Steff Mahan, who just released her third album, sits down with host Chuck Long to explain why she thought the CD might never happen, and the turning point that brought it to fruition. The segment will air the weekend of Friday, Jan. 15, and Friday, Jan. 29.

Canadian music sensation Mark Masri also stopped by the set to explain how he's setting out to conquer the U.S. after the release of his new album "La Voce." Segments with Masri, who has been compared to Josh Groban and Luther Vandross, will air the weekend of Friday, Jan. 8, and Friday, Jan. 22.

Out & About Today airs Fridays at 10 p.m., Saturdays at 9:30 p.m. and 2 a.m., and Sundays at 10 p.m. and 2 a.m. on NewsChannel 5.
